About Our Company - A Tradition of Accuracy and Enjoyment

Revell and Monogram companies have been entertaining, inspiring and educating modelers for over 70 years. The longevity of Revell Group brands is a testament to the popularity of detailed plastic models that are affordably priced!

Launched in 1943, Revell initially produced a wide range of products, including ladies' compacts, train sets, scale buildings and "action pull toys" recreating some of America's most popular automobiles. However, the brand found its niche with a line of fast-building "Highway Pioneers" plastic model car kits in the early 1950s. After their success, Revell focused exclusively on making models that were as authentic as they were enjoyable.

When Monogram was founded in 1945, the industry was revolutionized with models featuring prefabricated wood parts for easier assembly. Ships and airplanes were the brand's most popular subjects. In the early 1950s, Monogram shifted gears to all-plastic construction with a lineup of car kits. They sold like gangbusters, establishing Monogram as the brand to beat for automotive models.

Revell and Monogram were competitors for the next three decades, providing the industry with a rare, friendly rivalry. In 1986, something unexpected happened—both brands were united in a merger. Bringing the Revell and Monogram names together was a no-brainer, as evidenced by the continued popularity of our kits. In 2007, Revell Inc. was purchased by Hobbico®, one of the world's largest manufacturers, distributors and retailers of model hobby products. It marked the start of an exciting new era.

Today, Revell is committed to creating new and exciting products for its customers. We are the only model kit company with a line designed for hobbyists as young as age six—SnapTite® Build & Play™ kits. We also team with numerous licensed entities, including Star Wars™. Our continuing initiative is to develop new tooling that is suitable for hobbyists of all skill levels, from the youngest to the most advanced. Revell carries on the tradition of accuracy in plastic models and providing a challenging and enjoyable pastime for all model hobby enthusiasts.

About the Revell brands:

Model kits produced by the Monogram company. Monogram merged with Revell in 1986 and the model kits are still released under that brand today. The Monogram continues to be a name that the model building enthusiast, as well as hobby dealers, can depend on for unique subject matter and high quality model kits.

These kits feature recessed panel lines and bagged clear parts for added protection. They include multiple sets of authentically matched silkscreen decals along with a comprehensive instruction booklet containing historical facts and detailed finishing techniques.

Classic vintage kits created originally by the Renwal company, advertised as "Accurately scaled from U.S. Army Ordnance Blueprints". The molds have been owned by Revell since 1976 and have been reissued previously. These are re-released as part of the SSP line.

An explanation of Revell's Level System

Revell has implemented a new level system in 2016. This level system starts at 1 to introduce the model building experience to the younger modeler. The highest level is 5 - suitable for an advanced model builder. The new system will now deliver a complete selection of products that fill the need of the novice model builder to the highly skilled and experienced model builder, because model building knows no age limit!

1 Level 1: SnapTite® Build & Play™ Age: Beginner, 6-8 year olds, Features: Full play value, stronger materials, de-gated pieces. Build time: Up to 30 minutes.

2 Level 2: SnapTite® Age: 8-10 year olds, Features: More pieces than Level 1, limited play value. Build Time: Up to 1 hour.

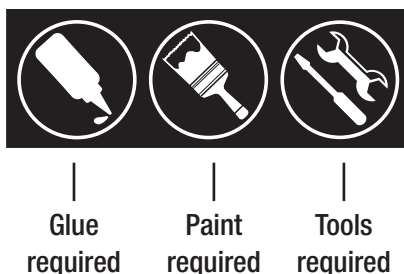

Level 2: SnapTite® Max™ Age: 8-12 year olds, Features: More pieces than Level 1, larger scale. Kits contain chrome plated parts and peel & stick decals. Build Time: Up to 1 hour.

3 Level 3: Pre-decorated: Age Intermediate experience as young as 10-12 year olds, Features: Model kit that introduces the use of glue. Vehicle body comes pre-painted and finished. Transitions builder to all glue and paint kits. Build Time: 3 hours.

4 Level 4: Glue & Paint: kit Age: Casual builder, as young as 12 and up, Features: Full glue and paint kit up to 100 pieces. Build Time: 3 hours and up.

5 Level 5: Glue & Paint kit: Age as young as 14 and up, designed for an experienced hobbyist. Features: 120+ pieces. Build Time: 4 hours and up.

Revell has a long history of manufacturing model kits based on your favorite popular television and movies. That tradition carries on through today!

Entertainment

The Fast and Furious™ series has become one of Universal Pictures most blockbuster franchises, and Revell has developed a line of model kits based on the globally successful movies.

When the series begun, LAPD officer Brian O'Conner went undercover to take down Dom Toretto's tight-knit band of street racers. To accomplish this, Brian depended upon his custom-built-for-speed Eclipse.

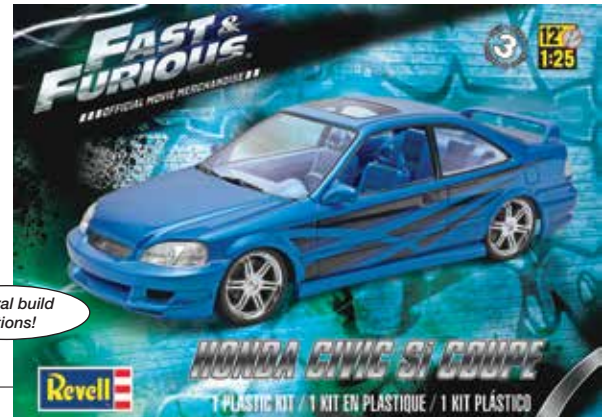

In the high octane world of Fast and Furious, cars like the nimble Honda Civic Si Coupe help keep you in front. Get your slice of the action with this cool kit!

In the '70s, the Starsky and Hutch™ series took the cop drama genre and ran with it. The show featured high octane action and lots and lots of car chases featuring the signature bright red "striped tomato" Ford Torino owned by Starsky. Any criminal would know from a mile away who was driving up in the bright red Torino, with a 351 c.i. engine with dual carbs. Kit features police radio, dome light, detailed chassis and engine, plus slotted mag wheels.

A model kit based on the classic 70s era comedy Smokey and the Bandit™. Outrunning the law isn't easy, but for $80,000 you bet 'Bandit' will try it. Helping him out in his high-speed hijinks are a runaway bride, a pack of sympathetic truckers and a V8 powered black Pontiac® Firebird®. When State Trooper 'Smokey' gets on his trail, hilarity ensues as a race across several states. Kit features include an opening hood, detailed V-8 engine, removable "T" top roof panels and a shaker style air intake.

In 1957 Ed Roth, along with Tom Kelly and Bud “The Baron” Crozier, opened a shop in South Gate, CA and began pin striping cars. He was also hard at work making his first all-out show hot rod. Once Ed started winning awards at car shows, he caught the eye of Revell, who thought they would make a great subjects for model kits. Revell felt that Ed needed a catchy nickname. In the end, Revell and Ed agreed on the name “Big Daddy”.

What does "scale" mean? Scale = Size. A real 1969 Camaro Z-28 is 25 times larger than a 1/25 scale model kit. Larger kits are generally more expensive and have more parts, requiring more work area and assembly time. See the photos below to see comparisons of the the most common scales for plastic model vehicles and aircraft.

Based in Germany, the European branch of Revell offers a wide and varied selection of model kits. Revell Germany product line often varies in subject matter from Revell USA. Revell Germany announces new products to customers each month.

Subjects include military transports, tanks, and figures, military and civilian aircraft. Watercraft subjects include historic ships, ocean liners, sailing ships, and submarines. Vehicles include import, racing, and historic subjects and commercial, vintage, and modern trucks. Space subjects and trains are also popular.

If you can't locate the specific model you need at Revell USA, check with Revell Germany! To view the Revell Germany products that are currently available for sale in the U.S. and to find the U.S. location of a retailer near you, please visit revell.com.

Selected Subjects Program

Look for the gold SSP logo on the package! These model kits are produced in limited quantities only, released in the original style retro packaging. They include Renwal and Monogram subjects. Kits in the Selected Subjects Program are announced throughout the year and will not appear in the catalog. Visit revell.com or follow Revell on social media to get announcements of new product releases.

Available for a limited time only, you will want to order these before they run out!

About the Revell Make 'n Take program

Model building is fun, creative, and constructive. Plan a model-making activity for your next event. With Revell's Make 'n Take program it's simple: Revell SnapTite® model kits are available for sale in multiple quantities per carton. All the kits in the carton are the same style so all participants of the event are all working on the same kit.

Snap together construction means no glue or paint is required. Choose from a variety of kits and skill levels. Kits are either SnapTite® Build & Play™, for as young as age 6, or SnapTite, suitable for children as young as age 8.

Carton contents also include a promotional poster and an event planning guide that will help your event become a success. Prompt shipping.

Order by calling 1-800-637-7660 - extension 1184 and customer service will assist you with ordering and will coordinate delivery to your preferred retail location for pick up.

Customer Care information:

Customer Support and Service

Revell takes pride in its product. We make every effort to provide the best quality product and value in the market. It is our goal to ensure that you receive what you need in perfect condition and that you have the most enjoyable building experience. For these reasons we provide to you various service options and support.

Parts Replacement - Revell US and Germany Model Kits

Please note: This policy applies to consumers residing in the U.S. or Canada ONLY. International customers should contact Revell of Germany directly at service@revell.de

Revell model kits are subject to extensive quality checks during the manufacturing process to ensure they leave our warehouse in perfect condition. Even with our best effort a part may be missing or broken. Upon opening your product and inspecting its contents you always have the option to return the item to the merchant for an exchange in accordance with the store's policy.

There are two options to submit a parts replacement order through Revell:

- 1. Online: This is the quickest method. Visit the Parts & Service section of revell.com to fill out an ONLINE PARTS REQUEST. Once your order has been submitted you will receive a confirmation number via email. Please keep this as it is a tracking number. You can check your order status 24/7 by visiting revell.com – Parts & Service section. You will not receive email updates of order status. If the part(s) requested are no longer available you will receive an email notification. The time to fulfill your order can take up to 4 weeks. Please note that fulfillment of orders for Revell Germany product may take up to 8 weeks.
- 2. Regular Mail: If you do not have a computer, or cannot get access to one, Revell accepts mailed in parts request, however, processing time may take up to 12 weeks. To send your parts request via regular mail please send the following information:
 1. Your first and last name
 2. Your complete mailing address
 3. A phone number where you can be reached
 4. The kit number (found on the instruction sheet or side of the box),
 5. The name of your kit
 6. The part number for which you are requesting replacement (refer to your instruction sheet for the part number if you are not certain). If you need a new instruction sheet please note it separately as "Instruction Sheet".
 7. A description of the missing or defective part
 8. An explanation of why replacement is needed
 9. Your proof of purchase (the bar code found on the box) or a copy of your sales receipt.

Additional Parts Replacement Policies and Conditions:

Our policy is to have replacement parts available for up to 3 years after an item's last production date or until supplies last, whichever comes first. If a kit is missing an extensive number of pieces, or is severely damaged, the first course of action is to return the kit to the place of purchase.

If the vendor does not accept returns, we may request that the complete kit be returned to Revell for review, at your expense. If it is determined that missing parts or kit damage is Revell's fault, the kit will be replaced, at Revell's expense, with a similar kit. If it is determined that the kit met all of our quality expectations, Revell will return the original kit to the sender, with no additional responsibility on Revell's side.

If the kit was purchased from a reputable retailer like those found on revell.com store locator and, after removing shrink wrap, a part is missing or broken, Revell will provide a reasonable number of replacement parts at no charge. The Revell Parts Department will determine if any part(s) order has exceeded a reasonable amount. Revell reserves the right to modify or refuse any part(s) order.

Technical and Model Building Support:

Revell receives questions on a daily basis regarding assembling and painting model kits. Prior to calling, please visit the Parts & Service section of revell.com for "Frequently Asked Questions". The information is designed to assist you in resolving any issues.

Our tech support phone line is 1-800-833-3570 and is available Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 9AM to 4PM Central Standard Time to assist you with your model kit building questions. Please note that this line is not for replacement part requests. Customer service inquiries, technical questions, and parts requests cannot be handled through Revell social media.

Please call 1-800-833-3570 for a complete explanation and instructions of our customer service process. NOTICE: The Revell parts request policy is subject to change without notice and may be modified at any time. A current policy will be available on revell.com.
