RISE™

NEWPRODUCT

The RXD250 is tough, sleek... and not for the meek!

From the Experts:

It's stripped down, lightweight, and made from high-impact foam and carbon fiber. That makes the RXD250 the perfect drone for getting into racing, because you can cut close to every obstacle to find the shortest, scariest route on the course. And if you crash? No problem — the RXD250 comes back for more!

Long story short...

Push your limits, then leave them behind — the RXD250 is designed with the drone racer in mind!

From the Experts:

Now in kit form, the Yeti™ SCORE® Trophy Truck® is a purposely engineered desert truck with a solid rear axle and independent front suspension. Make no bones about it, this is not a short course truck nor is it designed for the sugar coated and manicured racetracks of R/C. This Trophy Truck is designed for the roughest of conditions and REAL DIRT. We beg for the dirt and rocks to be brought back to off-road! There are reasons why full size Trophy Trucks feature the four link suspension design; durability, capability, and improved forward bite without sacrificing suspension travel. Full-size Trophy Trucks inspired the distinct aesthetic and technical elements of this truck, right down to the solid rear axle. The retro inspired body features design queues from a 1960's era roof-line, classic 1970's wheel arches and glass shapes from the 1980's.

TAKE THE FEAR OUT OF LEARNING TO FLY

Hone your skills on RealFlight, where crashes have no consequences.

REALFLIGHT

Youngsters try their hand at RealFlight RF7.5 at a recent R/C event.

If you can't bear the thought of crashing your R/C aircraft, do what tens of thousands of modelers have done: learn the basics of flying BEFORE you head out to the field, with RealFlight. Your PC offers "fly anytime" convenience, and RealFlight makes flight training easy and fun. By the time you take your bird up for the first time, you'll have friends and fellow pilots convinced you're a seasoned pro!

Here are real testimonials from RealFlight users:

"All I can say is Wow! All of the other sims I bought before RealFlight are gathering dust, because RealFlight blows them out of the water. It's the only sim you will ever need."
— Kris Cartwright

"I've been flying R/C planes since the late seventies and have lived through all the changes in technology, and nothing matches RealFlight. It allows a new pilot a way to safely and cheaply learn how to fly. And old pros like me can fly planes we would never get to fly otherwise."
— Kenneth Dougherty

REALFLIGHT DRONE Flight Simulator

Master your multi-rotor aircraft... on RealFlight

If piloting a drone appeals to you, let the RealFlight Drone Simulator show you everything you need to know. From basic hovering to becoming an accomplished aerial photographer, the "stick time" you put in on RealFlight will pay off big-time when you're ready to take your real model up.

"I bought my first heli last year, and spent a lot of time fixing it each time I flew it. After investing in RealFlight, I improved a lot. Not only do I not crash anymore, I can also perform daring moves. I love my RealFlight and spend my free time just practicing with it."
— Tito Sarmiento

"After using RealFlight for six months, I went out to the field for the first time with a 60-size Cessna 182. The instructor could not believe his eyes when, without any assistance from him, I took off, flew a few circuits and landed perfectly. Thank you, RealFlight, your product is exactly like the real thing."

REVELL OF GERMANY®

1/72 GERMAN PARATROOPERS (WWII)

Conquering Crete

In 1941, airborne operations were still in their infancy. Germany was at the forefront of airmobile tactics and decided to use paratroopers in a risky invasion of the strategic island of Crete. Over 10,000 German paratroopers were committed to the attack. They faced a mixed Commonwealth and Greek force of over 40,000 men. Despite lopsided numbers, the Germans were able to secure airfields on Crete and bring in reinforcement—albeit at the cost of horrific casualties. Germany would never again undertake a large scale airborne strike. Kit features Paratroopers during the Battle of Crete.

1/35 ANZAC INFANTRY 1915

Ground down at Gallipoli

With Gallipoli in hand, the British Empire could hold the Dardanelles and guarantee an ice-free route to Russia all year round. There was just one small problem. Gallipoli belonged to the Ottoman Empire and they weren't about to give it up. A small patch of beach that came to be called ANZAC cove saw some of the fiercest fighting of the war when the Australian and New Zealand forces sent there were bottled up on the beach. Kit features four figures with lots of equipment and weaponry choices.

1/72 T-34/85

Stalin's shock weapon

When the T-34 hit the front lines, it made a devastating impact on the German advance into Russia. German tanks, heretofore masters of every battlefield, were suddenly under gunned and under armored compared to their opponents. As the war drug on, German tanks improved and so the Russians designed the T-34/85. This new model T-34 carried an enormous 85mm anti-tank gun. With newer and better tanks continuously rolling out of Russian factories, the Red Army turned the Wehrmacht around and beat them all the way to Berlin. Kit features rotating turret, 85mm gun, and two sets of decals.

1/72 DHC-6 TWIN OTTER "SWISSTOPO"

Mountains of maps of mountains

The twin-engine DHC-6 "Twin Otter" delivers the power and reliability the Swiss Federal Topographical Service (Swisstopo) needs to properly map the many mountainous regions of Switzerland. Broad, high-set wings, powerful and reliable turboprop engines, and the ability to take off and land virtually anywhere make the Twin Otter perfect for flying in and out of hard to reach places the world over. Kit features cockpit with full instrument panel, rotating propeller, detailed landing gear, and full decals.

1/72 F4U-4 CORSAIR

Gull-winged glory of WWII

Originally deemed too hazardous for carrier landings, the Corsair was given to the Marines... and they loved it. Post war victory figures indicate that the Corsair was superior to the Japanese Zero in every way. US Pilots racked up a claimed 12 to 1 kill ratio against the Zero and recorded only 189 air to air combat losses for the entire war. The F4U-4 variant of the Corsair went on to serve in the Korean War as a fighter bomber, shredding convoys and blasting depots. Kit features twin radial engine, detailed cockpit, auxiliary tanks, bombs, and full decals.

1/48 SUPERMARINE SPITFIRE MK.II

King and country

An uprated Merlin engine was dropped in an Mk.I Spitfire in 1939. This 1,175 horsepower beast allowed the Spitfire to climb and fly faster while carrying heavier loads. Merlin-engined Mk.IIs went into full-rate production at a shadow factory near Birmingham in 1939. The advantage these new engines gave, though small, was exactly the kind of edge the RAF needed in the bloody days of the Battle of Britain. Kit features detailed cockpit and landing gear plus full decals.

1/100 BELL® UH-1H® GUNSHIP

Devastation in the Delta

Vietnam, March 1962. After seven years of war, Vietnam is still a crisis point. The US Army presses an experimental new helicopter, the HU-1, into service for aeromedical evacuation. Very quickly, other variants start pouring in. The UH-1H is an up-engine model capable of mounting desperately needed firepower. Multiple machine guns, rocket launchers, and door guns gave Hueys the ability to engage ground targets and support deployed troops. Kit features rotating main rotor, open/closed main doors, and decals for the "Hornets" assault squadron in Vietnam.

1/72 EC135 AIR-GLACIERS

Lives on the line

EC1435s are some of the most popular twin-engine light helicopters in Europe today. Examples of the type are used for personnel transport, aeromedical evacuation, policing, and more. In Switzerland, the Air-Glaciers company uses the EC135 for tourist transport and, when things get rough, aeromedical evacuation. In either role the EC135 excels thanks to its twin engines and superior design. Kit features detailed interior, rotating main rotor, and Air-Glaciers decals.

1/400 SOVIET SUBMARINE TYPHOON CLASS

Cold War leviathan

In the closing decade of the Cold War, Russia's final super weapon was the massive "Akula" Class submarine—NATO code named "Typhoon". It was and remains the largest displacement submarine ever constructed and it carried a most lethal payload. Twenty intercontinental ballistic missiles with 10 warheads each were stored in the vessels tubes. Additionally, both missiles and torpedoes could be launched from forward tubes. Thanks to their nuclear reactors, Typhoons could remain submerged for months if necessary. Kit features moveable periscopes and antennas, opening missile bay doors, SS-20 missiles, display stand, and decals.

1/144 GERMAN SUBMARINE TYPE XXIII

Under the sea

Comparatively small and ungainly when set against earlier submarine types, the XXIII submarines were nevertheless revolutionary. They were some of the first submarines ever designed to operate primarily underwater, a capability they achieved with a massive 67-cell battery and a snorkel for the diesel engines. Sixty one were completed shortly before the end of the war and U-2336 sank the last Allied ships in the European theater of operations. Kit features conning tower, display stand, and three sets of decals.

1/24 CITROËN 2CV SAUSSS ENTE

Drive a duck with pluck!

Popularly referred to as the "Ente" or duck, the Citroën 2CV was one of the earliest and most revolutionary economy cars of Europe. Designed in 1937, the 2CV was intended to add mobility to the farmers of rural France. Unfortunately, WWII devastated the industrial capacity of France and delayed the introduction of the type until 1948. The type was a model of austerity, designed with absolutely no frills but with great terrain-crossing ability and remarkable gas mileage. Kit features positionable windows and roof plus the special "Sausss Ente" Speeding Duck livery.

1/24 PORSCHE® BOXSTER®

Original classic roadster

Porsche makes beautiful cars. They've proved it time and again. And with the Porsche Boxster, they proved that they could make beautiful, modern roadsters with truly intense performance. A boxer style, flat six-cylinder engine lent the original 1996 model a top speed of over 140 mph and a 0-60 of less than seven seconds and performance has gotten even better from there. Kit features one piece body, rotating wheels, metal axles, and decals for various countries.

EGGPLANE F-4 & F-15 "ADTW 60TH ANNIVERSARY" (COMBO)

Ready for your roost

Two eggs with a side of awesome. Break out the egg timer, these birds assemble fast. Their designs are poached from the F-4 and the F-15, two grade A planes that have served the JASDF practically since it hatched. F-4s have been scrambling since 1958 and they're still a highly effective ground attack aircraft. The F-15, comparatively, is a spring chicken. It's a light and fast air superiority that has been crated and exported to many countries. Kit features two eggplane-version kits with full decals.

1/72 Mi 24 HIND "UNITED NATIONS"

Ukraine's donation for the United Nations

The Mi-24 Hind was the first and only assault helicopter. It was designed to be both a devastating gunship and a capable troop transport. It was also a remarkably agile aircraft—capable of executing flips, rolls, and other maneuvers that it was never designed for. After the collapse of the Soviet Union, many materials of war were left in the former USSR member states. These Ukrainian Air Force Hinds are in service to the United Nations. Kit features new chafe flare dispenser parts and two sets of decals.

1/72 Ta 154 A-1 & Fw 190 A-8 "MISTEL"

Distributing destruction

One of a series of destructive designs, this "Mistel" variant was designed to be used against bomber formations. Other variants of the project were designed for use against ground targets, but the most prevalent of the Ta 154-based "Mistels" was designed to be flown into the midst of tight Allied bomber formations and detonated after the pilot bailed out. Hypothetically, this could have destroyed or damaged a significant number of bombers thanks to the quantity of explosives used. Fortunately, these aircraft never made it into production. Kit features new metal joint, jack stay, and landing gear parts plus photo-etched parts and two sets of decals.

1/72 EUROFIGHTER TYPHOON

No. 29 Squadron 100th Anniversary

Advanced fighters like the Eurofighter Typhoon would have blown the minds of RAF No. 29 Squadron's original pilots. To start things off, the Typhoon was developed by Britain and Germany which were at war when No. 29 Squadron was formed. Additionally, the Typhoon flies at a maximum of 1,550 mph and has a range of 1,800 miles. Compare that to No. 29's original planes which topped out at 72 mph and had a range of just over 200 miles, and it's obvious things have come quite a ways in 100 years. Kit features two special 100th Anniversary markings.

1/72 SHIN MEIWA PS-1 "31ST SQUADRON"

Saving lives

As a flying boat, the Shin Meiwa PS-1 is perfectly suited for maritime Air Search-Rescue missions. Its massive range, long loiter time, and moderately slow flying speed make it the perfect platform for searching long stretches of the Pacific. Once a distressed vessel is found, the PS-1 has the option of landing on the water and taking survivors on board directly. This limited edition kit features decals for two JASDF PS-1 aircraft.

02195 (Limited Edition) HSGS2195 Total Parts: 182 Skill Level: 3 Length: 17.8 in (453 mm)

1/72 F-15J EAGLE "304 SQUADRON TSUIKI 2015"

Southern watch

Tsuiki Air Force Base defends Kyushu, the southernmost of Japan's main islands. The F-15J is a Mitsubishi® license-built version of the F-15 Eagle. This high-performance aircraft is armed with a Vulcan cannon and ten hardpoints for air-to-air missiles and bombs. A Mach 2.5 top speed and 65,000ft service ceiling make the F-15 perfect for defending Japanese airspace against any encroachment. This limited edition kit features JASDF decals for the 304th Squadron based at Tsuiki.

1/72 He 51B-1 AND Bf 109 E-3 "CONDOR LEGION" COMBO Strafing Spain

From 1936 to 1939, violence rocked Spain as varying groups and nations all vied to promote their own interests in the Spanish Civil War. One of the most successful of the groups propping up the Fascist "Nacionales" was the German Condor Legion. Though their He 51 biplanes were outdated, they still provided effective ground attack aircraft. Plus, the Bf 109s sent later were some of the most effective aircraft used in the entire war. In the lead up to WWII, the Condor Legion's combat experience was invaluable. Kit features two kits and four sets of decals.

1/24 JAGUAR XJR-8 LM Designed to dominate

With a V-12, 720hp engine, the Jaguar XJR-8 LM was capable of attaining speeds of over 200mph. The type raced for only one year-1987, winning at three prestigious races as well as earning the "Autosport Racing Car of the Year" award. For its one and only entrance into the grueling 24 Hours of Le Mans, three cars were entered. Their performance was mixed. Two of the three failed to finish while the third placed fifth overall after gearbox troubles knocked it out of second place. Kit features three sets of decals.

20272 HSGS2272 Total Parts: 56 Skill Level: 3 Length: 7.8 in (199 mm)

1/24 SAUBER MERCEDES® C9 1988 Speed first

At a top clocked speed of 248mph, the C9 is one of the fastest cars ever to compete at the 24 Hours of Le Mans racing competition. Two cars were entered for the race in 1988, but they never got the chance to compete. The very next year, the team returned to Le Mans with a third car and swept first, second, and fifth place overall. Kit features decals for two 1988 World Sport Prototype Car Championship vehicles.

1/48 "SHIDENKAI NO MAKI" MESSERSCHMITT Bf 109G-6 No contest

Despite first being introduced in 1937, the Messerschmitt Bf 109 stayed competitive against Allied aircraft through to the end of WWII. Its multitude of upgrades and variants and the quality of the original design ensured that nothing was safe on the air or the ground when Bf 109s were around. This specific piece of superlative shredding machinery is piloted by "Yune Herrstein", a character from the popular manga "Shidenkai no Maki". Kit features decals for pilot student Yune Herrstein.

1/48 NAKAJIMA A6M2-N FIGHTER SEAPLANE (RUFÉ) 452nd Flying Group

Floats enabled the A6M2-N to operate from areas far beyond the range of established air strips and carrier flotillas. This gave the Japanese air cover capability all the way to the Aleutian Island chain. This advantage came at a price, however. The weight and wind resistance of the float caused significant drag on the airframe, diminishing speed, range and maneuverability. This limited edition kit features two sets of IJN decals.

1/32 MESSERSCHMITT Bf 109G-6 "JUUTILAINEN" WITH PILOT

Finland's finest fighter pilot

Ilmari Juutilainen is the highest-scoring non-German pilot of all time, with 94 confirmed victories. He fought in both the Finnish-Soviet Winter War and World War II and came through both without ever having his aircraft struck by enemy fire. The Bf 109 G-6 he flew late in the war was one of the finest aircraft of WWII—a German-made powerhouse armed with twin 13mm guns, a 20mm cannon, and equipped with a Daimler-Benz engine that propelled it to nearly 400mph. Kit features resin figure and two sets of decals.

1/72 MIG-29A FULCRUM Soviet Russia's answer to the F-15

Just before the collapse of the Soviet Union, Mikoyan produced the MiG-29 — a light multi-purpose fighter intended to counter the American F-15. Dozens of other countries purchased this versatile fighter for their air forces. The aircraft can carry 7,720 lbs (3,500 kg) of munitions nearly 900 miles (1430 km). Continuous upgrades have kept the MiG-29 on the leading edge of world air forces for forty years. Kit features Polish and Russian version decals.

1/48 F7F-3 TIGERCAT Killer carrier cat

A combination of four 20mm cannons and four .50 caliber machine guns gave the Tigercat high takedown power and substantial ground attack capability. Unfortunately, it was also heavy and difficult to handle on the small flattops of WWII. Its carrier handling problems relegated it to land bases and its late arrival meant it only saw combat service in the Korean War. Additionally, the obsession with new, jet engine aircraft soon saw Tigercat production halted. Kit features decals for six versions.

1/24 LAMBORGHINI COUNTACH 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Leave an impression in a Lamborghini

With its iconic mid-motor, cab forward design and gull wing doors, the Countach was designed to be a show stopper—and it worked. Practicality wasn't even in the picture. It was a wide, low, surprisingly trapezoidal work of art in tube steel and aluminum with a V-12 engine at its heart. From the outset, price was not a considered facet of the Countach. Now, 25 years after production was discontinued, the Countach is a classic that fetches hundreds of thousands at auction. Kit features full decals and rubber tires.

1/24 LAMBORGHINI DIABLO

Turning heads, wherever it treads

An update of the head-turning Countach concept, the Lamborghini Diablo is the car boys growing up in the new millennia dreamed of driving. Like the Countach before it, the Diablo is a fast-looking wedge of sports car power. The harsher, angular look of the Countach is smoothed out and rounded for the Diablo giving it a substantially more mainstream look than the evocative and eclectic Countach and Diablo prototype. Kit features full decals and rubber tires.

1/56 M10 TANK DESTROYER

Fast firepower for the front

M10 Tank Destroyers were fast, light, and armed with a 76mm gun capable of knocking out most light and medium German tanks. Their armor was thin for speed, sloped for greater protection and the pentagonal turrets were left open topped to improve visibility. This last feature proved to be problematic in close combats. Until late in the war, the M10 was the most reliable method around for dealing with hostile Panzers. Kit features American and British crew figures and three sets of decals.

1/72 RUSSIAN ZiS-3 GUN AND CREW

Secret savior of the Soviet Union

Soviet leaders, believing false reports of German armor's impregnability ordered production of all light and medium anti-tank guns to stop. The designer of the ZiS-3 ignored the order—a dangerous gamble in Soviet Russia! However, it paid off. When German tanks arrived their vaunted armor was nowhere near as impenetrable as thought and the highly effective 76mm ZiS-3 was put into production in vast numbers. On the field it helped grind down the German advance and turn it back. Kit features anti-tank gun and crew figures.

1/72 GULF WAR ANNIVERSARY BOX DIORAMA SET

Swift, decisive, successful.

Despite being armed with many state-of-the-art Russian vehicles like the T-62 and Mil-Mi 24 Hind, the Iraqi Army was in no way prepared for the Gulf War. Coalition air elements hammered targets within Iraq and Kuwait for five weeks, softening up the defense. Then the big guns went in—Abrams tanks, Apache helicopters, and nearly a million personnel under arms. The next 100 hours were a one-sided Coalition victory of dramatic proportions. Kit features a T-62, a Mil-Mi-24, M1A1 Abrams, and an AH-1W.

1/35 LAV-25 GULF WAR ANNIVERSARY

Standout scout

With a resilient armor package and the same, quick-firing 25mm chain gun used on the M2 Bradley, the LAV-25 is a force to be reckoned with on the battlefield. Its 8x8 suspension makes it highly mobile and 62mph top speed allows it to outpace a majority of armored fighting vehicles. From Panama to Iraq for the Gulf War, to Afghanistan, and back to Iraq for round 2, the LAV-25 has been with US troops all the way. Kit features two decal sets for US Marine Corps vehicles in the Gulf War.

AMT® 1/25 1989 BATMAN™ Batwing

Criminally cool!

In the 1989 version of "BATMAN", the Batwing was only on screen for a few moments but it totally stole the show. No child of the nineties will ever forget Joker's mournful "My balloons. Those are my balloons. He stole my balloons! Why didn't somebody tell me he had one of those... things?" That "thing", of course, was the Batwing and it foiled Joker's sinister plans for killing Gotham's citizens. Now you can own the caped crusader's famed flyer in huge 1/25 scale. Kit features BATMAN™ figure, opening canopy, bat symbol base and support rod.

AMT® 1/48 Shell Oil Lockheed Vega

Early to rise

Vega aircraft were some of the most innovative birds of the twenties. They were popular, fast, long-distance fliers with monocoque fuselages and high-placed wings. They set world speed records from coast to coast, were the aircraft used in the first solo transatlantic flight by a woman, and served as the plane of choice for daredevils of all sorts. It was also used as a passenger airliner, VIP transport, and observation aircraft. Kit features extensive Shell Oil decals and easy assembly.

Dragon Models 1/48 Ho 229 A-1 Flying Wing

Ahead of its time

Nazi Germany was known for a sequence of wildly advanced, radical designs for aircraft and weaponry. The Ho 229 was one of the most incredible of all these designs. It was a semi-stealthy, incredibly fast flying wing with a long range and the capability to carry over 2,000 lbs of bombs. Its design was so ahead of its time that it influenced work on the B-2 Spirit decades later. Fortunately for the Allies, the Ho 229 never made it into full production.

Dragon Models 1/700 USS Arizona BB-39 1941

Warrior's rest

On December sixth, 1941, the world was in turmoil. War raged from the shores of Britain to mainland China. In Hawaii, however, a few moments of peace remained for the men of the US Pacific Squadron. Then, on December 7th at 8 in the morning, Japanese planes roared overhead and bombed the Arizona at anchor. Moments later, the magazines detonated and the Arizona went to the bottom with 1,177 of her crew still aboard. Kit features new lower hull, retooled bridge and crane parts, 14-inch guns, photo-etched parts, Cartograf decals, and display stand.

Dragon Models 1/72 Sd.Kfz.184 Elefant

Massive machine of the Third Reich

Ninety one of these massive vehicles were made, based on the Porsche prototype chassis for the Tiger I and equipped with a casemate-mounted 88mm gun. They were the peak of specialized anti-tank weaponry, fully capable of smashing virtually any Allied tank or gun in a frontal assault. However, by the time they were ready for the front, Germany was far beyond the point at which it could launch sweeping offensives. The last of the Elefants fought in Berlin as the Third Reich crumbled. Kit features new tooling and Cartograf decals.

Moebius® 1/5 1966 Batgirl Resin

Sixties femme fatale

Campy, quirky, and classic, there really is no replacement for the sixties-era Batman television series. One of its most indelible and incredible characters was Batgirl, the crime-fighting femme fatale that very nearly stole the show from Batman and Robin. Kit features a resin-molded statue of Yvonne Craig as the iconic 1966 Batgirl from the Batman television series on a cool Batcave rock base.

LAUNCH A LIFETIME OF LEARNING!

Estes rockets take fun, family, and education to new heights!

Science, technology, and math are concepts kids tend to struggle with—until you let them design an Estes rocket! Estes rockets bring space, astronomy and chemistry down to earth and get kids involved in the curriculum in a big way. But the benefits don't stop in the classroom. Rockets are great family activities, ideal for summer camps and group activities, and they give kids an outlet for creative expression.

Boost learning fun in three key ways:

- Further Education—Aerospace tech gets kids interested in higher learning, college, and technology-related careers.
- Parent support and involvement—Every parent wants to see their child succeed. Rockets are a fun way to bring parents into education and encourage cooperation.
- Participation—There's nothing like a fun group project to bring students/teammates together on a common goal... and the payoff is a blast!

Resources to get you started

Educators, counselors, and parents rejoice! Estes has a page designed specifically for providing lesson plans in Math, Science, Language Arts, and more. These easily searchable PDFs allow you to tailor your rocket launch to what you want to teach. Check out <http://www2.estesrockets.com/cgi-bin/WEDU100Ppgm> download a few PDFs, get inspired, and tailor these ideas to your class or camp!

OWN THE AIR THIS SUMMER!

Eight Estes air-powered rockets for family fun

Bring learning and fun together in a big way with Estes Air rockets. These fun foam rockets are perfect for teaching kids about air pressure, wind dynamics, and gravity. It's not all learning, though, it's also fun! The thrill and wonder of watching these soar into the sky will bring delight to kids and kids at heart.
