RISE0200 Vusion 250 RTF Extreme FPV Drone Race Pack (200mW)
 RISE0205 Vusion 250 RTF Extreme FPV Drone Race Pack (25mW)
 Diagonal: 250 mm (9.8 in)
 Height: 110 mm (4.3 in)
 RTF Weight: 502 g (1.1 lb)
 Requires: Nothing!

EVERYTHING'S INCLUDED!

Just drop the high-quality LCD monitor into the included goggles for an immersive FPV experience.

The Vusion 250 includes a professional-quality 6-channel 2.4GHz radio system, for superior, interference-free control.

The video transmitter uses 5.8GHz technology so you can see your flights in real time. It features eight Raceband channels optimized for pro FPV racing.

This Extreme FPV Race Pack is all-in-one complete — even a LiPo battery, balance charger, "AA" batteries, spare props and a screwdriver are included!

- The first – and only – injection-molded racing drone that's 100% complete and Ready-To-Fly, with no soldering or assembly required
- Available with 25mW or 200mW video transmitters – both use 5.8GHz technology so pilots can watch flights in real time
- Modular, injection-molded construction adds impact resistance. Pieces snap on so pilots can be up and running in no time
- A micro memory card slot (up to 32GB) makes it possible to transfer flying footage from the on-board 600TVL FPV camera without sacrificing video quality

From the Experts:

The revolutionary Vusion 250 Extreme FPV Race Pack blends innovation and convenience with the ultimate First Person View racing drone. It's the first – and only – injection-molded RTF 250-size racing drone to come with all essential FPV equipment installed. Everything's designed to work seamlessly together, for the ultimate flying experience!

Long story short...

The Vusion 250 is a true game changer, combining an ultra-tough racing drone with all of the essential FPV equipment you need to start racing!

- O.S. has upgraded the popular T1201 engine to better meet the demands of serious touring car enthusiasts
- The Speed T1202 boasts more powerful low-to-middle range torque
- Greater fuel efficiency lets you stay in the action longer
- The center of gravity is lower, for better handling
- Features Speed innovations such as a tungsten weighted crank shaft with diamond-like coating and silicon potting

Long story short...

The Speed T1202 proves that O.S. engineers are continuing to find ways to make a great touring car engine even better!

AN INVALUABLE DIAGNOSTIC TOOL

Mini Digital Tachometer

HCAP0400
Mini Digital Tachometer

- Simply aim the Mini Digital Tachometer at the blades to get an accurate reading of revolutions per minute
- Works on fans with two blades on up to 9 blades, and measures rpm up to 99,999
- Information is displayed on a custom LCD with blue backlight for easy viewing in low-light conditions
- Powered by a long-lasting CR2032 Lithium-Ion battery (included)
- Takes up very little space in your field box or on your workbench

Long story short...

Hobbico's Mini Digital Tachometer makes checking blade rpm easy, convenient — and safe.

CONQUER THE COMPETITION — AND THE CONDITIONS

1/10 Scale 2WD Electric Off-Road Competition Buggy Kits

In today's racing, traction dictates your setup, and Associated has it covered with two different configurations. The B6 offers racers a platform developed for high to very-high traction surfaces, while the B6D excels when traction is low to high. Both versions boast the speed and durability you expect from world champion technology — just choose the one for your track conditions!

- Centralized motor mount for optimum side-to-side balance
- The hard-anodized aluminum pocketed chassis is beyond sturdy and allows for weight bias tuning
- Factory Team aluminum shock bushings provide stability for shock mounting
- A reverse bell-crank steering rack design allows more room for electronics
- V2 "Big Bore" threaded aluminum shocks with 3mm TiN coated shafts and low friction x-rings for improved smoothness
- Aluminum front axle and heavy-duty rear axle add the strength required for aggressive off-roading
- RC10B6 offers the option of mounting shocks on the front or the rear of the rear arms; both RC10B6 and RC10B6D have a 4-gear standup transmission available as an option

MAIN CONFIGURATION DIFFERENCES

PINEWOOD DERBY

IT'S NEVER TOO EARLY TO START A MASTERPIECE

GET STARTED ON NEXT YEAR'S PINEWOOD DERBY® CAR TODAY

You're a scout and a scout is always prepared, so get ready for next year's Pinewood Derby® competition right now! This year, skip the prefabricated bodies and create a racer that you can proudly say is 100% yours. Revell has the wood; the tools, the paints, the wheels and axles. All that is needed for a truly impressive racer is your imagination!

Let's get started!

RMXY9648 Carving set

A pocket knife will only get you so far. The Revell Carving Set can give you the precise shape you've always wanted.

RMXY9632 Wood block

Today it's a block of wood, but with time and effort, this will be your race winner.

RMXY8664 Alignment tool

Once you've shaped the body—make sure the alignment of your axles is perfect with the Alignment Tool.

RMXY9608 Wheels and axles

You won't get far without wheels! Revell has the only wheels that are BSA-approved for Pinewood Derby® races.

RMXY9614 Graphite application

Keep those wheels turning smooth with Graphite Powder! Lowering friction will increase your speed.

Designed for domination

RMXY9446
RMXY9447
RMXY9448
Decals

Decals can add an impressive level of precision to your car's look!

RMXY9425
Paints

You put a lot of effort into your racer's shape—now, make a statement with how it looks. Will you use a wrap or go fully-customized with paints?

RMXY9411
Wrap

Finishing touches help you finish first!

RMXY9603
Weights

Apply weights as needed to get you past the weight threshold and balance your car.

RMXY9451
Light

Stand out on the track with LED race lights!

If you've worked hard and made the best racer you could, you've already won. It is fun to finish first, too though.

See you at the track!

1/56 BOMARC MISSILE

Stopping nukes with nukes

Early in the Cold War, when the threat of atom-bomb bearing bombers roaring in was very real, the Bomarc was one of the first SAMs put into use to protect against a first strike. Planned massive batteries of these missiles could be emplaced around America's major cities. If hostile bombers were detected, they could be launched, home in, and then detonate their own multi-kiloton warhead. In the end, ICBMs made Bomarc obsolete. The few remaining missiles are on static display. Kit features launch rails, service platform, crew figures, instrument panel, and blast shield.

85-1806 RMXS1806 Total Parts: 61 Skill Level: 5 Length: 7.6 in (192mm)

1/48 F-102A DELTA DAGGER

Supersonic Soviet stopper

Part of the famous "Century Series" of fifties-era US Fighter, the Delta Dagger was a dedicated interceptor. It was designed and built for the sole purpose of stopping Soviet bombers from reaching the United States. A delta-wing design, a first for jet fighters, helped it achieve the supersonic speeds needed to catch the latest generation of bombers. They might have been great at that role, but they fortunately never had to prove it. Kit features Case X-wing design, seated pilot figure, external wing tanks, internal weapons, and six Falcon missiles.

85-5869 RMXS5869 Total Parts: 97 Skill Level: 4 Length: 17.1 in (435mm)
Wingspan: 9.6 in (244mm)

1/8 GRIM REAPER

LET'S RIDE!

The baddest of the bad is back and hotter than ever. Tom Daniel's devilishly designed Grim Reaper still has that mean, classic look 40 years after it was designed. The Grim Reaper starts with raked, custom, square-tubular forks and cool, dual-square headlights. Then, there's the "coffin" shaped gas tank on the custom frame with custom stitched seat, and "Iron Cross" medallion. It's all powered by a classic V-twin motor with down-swept chrome pipes. Kit features tons of chrome parts, flexible tubing for wiring, swing out kick stand, and soft black tires.

85-7541 RMXS7541 Total Parts: 80 Skill Level: 5 Length: 14.8 in (375mm)

1/72 WARRIOR MCV WITH ADD-ON ARMOR

Fire support to the field

Designed to deliver seven fully-equipped soldiers to the objective in the relative safety of an armor-enclosed hull, the Warrior MCV is also equipped with a 30mm RARDEN Cannon and 7.62mm coaxial machine gun for providing fire support. Although the aluminum armor of the Warrior can stop the majority of rifle-caliber small arms fire, it is invariably fitted with applique armor in the field. This can be either the slat-type armor used to frustrate RPG attacks or the "wrap-2" armor kit. Kit features rotating turret, injection-molded tracks, positionable turret hatches, and two sets of decals.

03144 RVLS3144 Total Parts: 136 Skill Level: 4 Length: 3.7 in (94mm)

1/76 SD.KFZ.124 WESPE

Bombardments on the move

When it became clear that the Panzer II was completely incapable of confronting enemy armor on the Eastern Front, many were converted into other fighting vehicles. One conversion involved stripping the turret off the tank and replacing it with a 105mm howitzer. With the gun in place and a few pieces of sheet steel for crew protection, the "Wespe" rolled out for the front. Almost seven hundred were produced, adding punch to the Panzer division's attacks. Kit features elevating gun barrel, vinyl tracks, two soldier figures, diorama base, and two sets of decals.

03215 RVLS3215 Total Parts: 54 Skill Level: 4 Length: 2.5 in (63mm)

1/76 M7 HMC PRIEST

Rolling thunder

The highly mobile style of fighting that predominated in WWII necessitated a totally new approach to artillery. It was no longer feasible to tow heavy guns around the field and set them up when needed. The quick, easily re-locatable firepower of the M7 Priest gave Allied armies an edge in every fight. Front line units could radio in a fire solution, the Priest could drop a few rounds of 105 on target and relocate before counter-battery fire found them. Kit features elevating gun barrel, three figures, diorama base, and decals for two versions.

03216 RVLS3216 Total Parts: 116 Skill Level: 4 Length: 3 in (76mm)

1/76 SD.KFZ.11 AND PAK 40

Pak a punch!

The Pak 40 was a 75mm anti-tank gun that was fully capable of knocking holes in the best Allied tanks. Nazi Germany rolled more than 20,000 of these off production lines and used them in nearly every major military campaign of the war. This set also includes an Sd.Kfz.11—one of the primary artillery tractors the Wehrmacht used to transport crews, ammunition, and towed guns across much of the world. In Italy, North Africa, Russia, France, and Germany, the Sd.Kfz.11 tirelessly hauled the machinery of war across the blasted landscape. Kit features towing tractor, anti-tank gun, motorcycle with side car, diorama base, soldiers, and two sets of decals.

03252 RVLS3252 Total Parts: 112 Skill Level: 4 Length: 2.8 in (72mm)

1/144 AIRBUS A350-900 LUFTHANSA

Tray tables up

With well over 8,000 miles of range and capacity for over 300 passengers, the Airbus A350-900 is one of the best wide-body twin-engine jets in the world. And, even though the A350-900 measures fuel consumption in tons by the hour, it claims to have superior fuel efficiency to the Boeing 777—its direct competitor. Kit features replica cockpit, detailed engines, rotating front fan, detailed under carriage including textured main under carriage bay, navigation lights, antennae, display stand, and decals for one Lufthansa aircraft.

1/72 P-70 NIGHTHAWK

A true pilot's aircraft

The P-70 Nighthawk had many features to recommend it, but one facet really stood out. Pilots just loved it. Its exceptional power plant made it easy to throw around the base plane—the A-20 Havoc bomber—as if it were a fighter. With a dipole radar set in the nose and an armament of four 20mm cannons, the P-70 was an exceptionally lethal night fighter. Kit features detailed cockpit, detailed under carriage, engine nacelles with twin radial engines, rotating propeller, radar nose segment, USAAF decals.

1/48 SPITFIRE MK.VC

Most of the best

The largest single category of Spitfire variants was the Mk.V class. Its variants carried differing wing armament with the "c" variant mounting either four 20mm cannons or two 20mm cannons and a pair of .303 machine guns. This heavy armament and improvements to the type's speed allowed it to stay competitive as German planes were also continuously upgraded. As the war progressed, the Spitfire became the key symbol of British defiance to Nazi aggression. Kit features detailed cockpit, instrument panel, rotating propeller, separate rudder/flaps, and decals for two RAF versions.

1/72 F-4J PHANTOM US NAVY

Sixties standout

At its introduction, the Phantom II was a revolution in aviation design. It captured sixteen world records for flight performance, but its practical application on the battlefield was unquestioned as well. Leading off its list of combat features was an 18,000 lb effective weapons load—more than the four-engine B-17 of WWII. What the Phantom lacked in maneuverability, it made up for in sheer speed—breaking Mach 2 with ease. Kit features ejection seats, detailed cockpit and under carriage, auxiliary fuel tanks, wing pylons with bombs, sidewinder missiles, and US Navy decals.

1/72 EUROFIGHTER TYPHOON BATCH 3

Decked out for destruction

The Eurofighter Typhoon is the collaboratively produced aviation platform of choice for much of the European Union and Britain. It's made to fill multiple rolls—be it interceptor, air superiority fighter, ground attack, or recon—it excels at them all. The third batch (or Tranche 3A) of aircraft shipped to Germany, Italy, Kuwait, Oman, Saudi Arabia, Spain, and the UK with nearly half of the 200 total aircraft going to Saudi Arabia and the UK. Kit features ejection seat, cockpit, detailed engine intakes, exhaust nozzles, air brakes, refueling probe, missiles, and a special super decal set.

1/72 BK-117 ADAC

Rescue in a pinch

All across Germany, 44 ADAC air-rescue helicopters are strategically placed to be able to respond to an emergency anywhere within fifteen minutes. This gives the members of the ADAC (German General Automobile Club) some assurance that, should there be a problem out on the Autobahn, a canary-hued "Yellow Angel" will be on its way in moments. Kit features rotating main rotor, tailplane with stabilators, and decals for an ADAC rescue helicopter.

1/570 SCHARNHORST

Hard luck and heavy guns

Scharnhorst was a beautiful ship with a good top speed and heavy main battery of nine eleven-inch guns. She also had the bad luck to be on the German side during WWII. Surface vessels contributed greatly to the German invasion of Norway, but shortly thereafter Allied radar and air superiority made venturing out on the surface deadly. Scharnhorst was cornered by British ships in the Battle of North Cape and sunk after heavy fighting. Kit features detailed deck, rotating turrets, 28 and 15cm guns, seaplane, display stand, and full decals.

1/144 FAST ATTACK CRAFT ALBATROSS CLASS

Swift stinger

In the great scheme of warships, the 190ft long Albatross Class boats were little more than fly specks on the water. However, they packed a serious punch. Twin 76mm automatic cannons distribute 14lb shells across the water at a maximum fire rate of two per second. In addition, four Exocet missiles give the type a long-range impact far in excess of the relative size of the vessel. It's even equipped with wire-guided torpedoes in stern-facing tubes. Kit features detailed hull and deck, two OTO Melara guns, two torpedo tubes, two twin missile launchers, and decals for all ten Albatross-class craft.

1/96 CUTTY SARK

The fastest of them all

Well after the steamship was invented, the Cutty Sark was still the fastest ship on the seas. Her brass-clad hull cleaved the waves as taut sails pulled her at 17 knots. The ship hauled thousands of tons of tea every year for her owners. After the tea trade was taken over by newer ships, the Sark endured as a training ship and a museum. Now you can build the Cutty Sark! Kit features fully detailed two-piece hull, representation of brass plating, wood grain detail, authentic sails, rigging thread, metal anchor chain, life boats, rigging pulleys, display stand, and full decals.

1/24 MERCEDES AMG GT

Not your average grocery getter

Why does the Mercedes AMG GT only have room for a medium suitcase in the trunk? Easy. Because all the space was taken up by the turbocharged 243 cu in V8 engine. That beastly engine delivers over 250 horsepower per seat—a total of 503 British Horsepower. With that much under the hood, it can hit 60 mph from a dead stop in just under four seconds and maintain a top speed of nearly 190 mph. Kit features multi-part body, opening hood, left or right hand drive, and lots of plate options.

1/24 VW BEETLE "POLICE"

Protect and swerve

Whether one would actually pull over for this vehicle or simply tap the gas to outrun the little four cylinder is entirely dependent on the driver's respect for law and order. Perks include good gas mileage, a surprising amount of head room for those handcuffed in the back seat, and sleek good looks. Kit features three different lights, optional loudspeaker, opening engine cover, instructions, and decals for two versions with two liveries each.

1/350 IJN AIRCRAFT CARRIER JUN'YŌ

"Peregrine Falcon"

Even by the standards of Japanese warships in WWII, Jun'yō had a tough career. She was originally built as a passenger liner, but was completed as an aircraft carrier. Throughout the war, she fought in the Aleutian Islands campaign, Guadalcanal, the Solomon Islands, the Battle of the Philippine Sea, and more. Along the way, she was frequently bombed and torpedoed, had her air wing removed, suffered the loss of nearly the entire air complement in combat, and was finally hulked when her battle damage was too great for repair. Kit features decals for Jun'yō as the flagship at the Battle of the Philippine Sea.

1/350 WOODEN DECK FOR CARRIER JUN'YŌ

Detail your deck!

Both Japanese and US aircraft carriers frequently used wood for the flight decks of their aircraft carriers—Jun'yō was no exception. No model of Jun'yō is complete without this beautiful and accurate addition! Made from real wood and backed with adhesive for easy application and incredible aesthetics. Don't miss this great addition to HSGS0030.

1/24 HONDA® N360 (NI)

All-purpose auto

Conceptually similar to the Volkswagen® Beetle, the Honda N360 was a small, light passenger vehicle developed in Japan during the late sixties. It was powered by an air-cooled inline 2-cylinder engine small enough that the spare tire could fit in the hood space next to the engine block. In essence, the purpose of this rather boxy vehicle was to provide an affordable automobile for Japan's rapidly re-industrializing economy. Kit features new bonnet, wheel, and dashboard parts, plus three marking options.

1/12 HONDA® NSR500 1989 ALL JAPAN GP500

Leave the competition breathing tire smoke

The fiercely contested GP500 has frequently centered around the Honda NSR500. These superior cycles won ten total 500cc world championships including six in a row from 1994 to 1999. The cycle was so superior, even folks well down the pole were trying to ride it to victory. Hikaru Miyagi raced for team Ajinomoto in the 1989 World GP500 and All-Japan GP500. This limited edition kit features new disk brake and exhaust pipe parts plus two sets of decals.

1/48 "SHIDENKAI NO MAKI" MITSUBISHI® J2M3 RAIDEN

Unleash the lightning!

Designed by Jiro Horikoshi, the Mitsubishi J2M could fly faster – and climb even higher – than the celebrated A6M Zero. The J2M3 Type 21 was distinguished by a powerful MK4R-A Kasei 23a engine, two wing-mounted 20 mm Type 99 Model I cannons and two wing-mounted 20 mm Type 99 Model II cannons. All that firepower makes it perfect for Mikaze Nakayoshi from "Shidenkai no Maki". This limited edition kit features metal gun barrel parts plus decals for pilot student Mikaze Nakayoshi's aircraft in "Shidenkai no Maki".

1/48 PEARL HARBOR 75TH ANNIVERSARY 3-KIT SET

Day of infamy

On December 7th, 1941, Japanese fighters, dive bombers, and torpedo bombers devastated the US fleet at anchor in Pearl Harbor. Militarily, it was a resounding success. Most of America's battleship force was either burning or on the bottom and the Japanese strike force was barely bloodied. On December 8th, Roosevelt gave his speech and asked for a declaration of war. An entire nation woke up on the 9th and went to war by the millions. Now, 75 years since the day, Hasegawa brings you a three kit set of aircraft from the IJN Carrier Akagi. Kit features three highly detailed IJN aircraft.

EGGPLANE F-22® RAPTOR "ACE COMBAT MOBIUS 1"

Bring Ace Combat to life!

The F-22 Raptor looks impressive, but its capabilities are even more striking. For starters, dual Pratt & Whitney® F119-PW-100 turbofan engines with afterburners help it reach estimated speeds of Mach 1.82 in super-cruise mode. With afterburners, speeds can exceed Mach 2. Avionics include AN/APG-77 radar, which can track multiple targets in any flight condition, as well as the AN/ALR-94 passive receiver system, which uses over 30 wing- and fuselage-mounted internal antennas to provide unsurpassed radar detection coverage. Kit features decals from "Ace Combat 04 Shattered Skies".

EGGPLANE SU-33 FLANKER-D "ACE COMBAT YELLOW 13"

Join squadron Aquila

The Sukhoi Su-33 is a direct descendant of the Su-27, made carrier-capable for use as a naval fleet defense interceptor. Another key distinction between the Su-27 and Su-33 is that the Su-33 can refuel while in flight. Instead of using a catapult to take off, the Su-33 is launched via ski jump for improved climb angles. This limited edition kit features decals for Erusea Air Force, 156th Tactical Fighter Wing, Squadron "Aquila", Yellow 13 from the downloadable content of "Ace Combat Assault Horizon".

1/350 JAPANESE NAVY CARRIER-BASED AIRCRAFT SET

Hunters on the wing

Japanese carrier aircraft were some of the most advanced planes in the world at the outset of WWII. The Zero was incredibly maneuverable and fast, its dive bombers were crewed by experienced pilots, and its torpedo bombers were equipped with weapons that, unlike American ones, consistently worked. In a war that came to be dominated by air power, Japan started out with the edge in naval aviation. Kit features three Type 52 Zeros, three type 21 Zeros, three "Jill" torpedo bombers, and three "Judy" bombers.

1/48 WAH-64D APACHE "BRITISH ARMY AIR CORPS"

Exported excellence

Although the U.S. Army is considered the main operator of the AH-64 Apache, this highly advanced attack heli has been exported to countless countries over the years. Some of the most notable operators around the world include the United Kingdom, Israel, Japan, Greece and Singapore. Britain's Army Air Corps received its first WAH-64Ds in 2004, and currently has 50 in service. This limited edition kit features new antenna, sensor bulge and rocket pod parts, photo-etched parts and one marking option: 1. British Army Air Corps, Code: ZJ186.

1/72 DOUGLAS RB-66B DESTROYER

Rapid recon on demand

The specialized Douglas RB-66B was a modification of an Air Force light bomber. It was intended to keep tabs on opponents and potential opponents with a powerful array of reconnaissance cameras. Its powerful J71 engines gave it both extraordinary range and speed. Nearly one hundred fifty of the type were built and put into service. Kit features four decal versions, detailed pieces, and full instructions.

1/72 TORNADO GR.1 RAF - GULF WAR

Desert destruction

These aircraft helped Coalition forces to execute over 1,000 air sorties in the first 24 hours of Operation Desert Storm. This virtually unprecedented employment of total air supremacy led to a remarkably speedy victory for ground forces. Of nearly sixty Tornados deployed for the effort, six were lost but their very presence helped deter Iraqi pilots from attempting to engage. Today, 25 years after the Gulf War, it's more important than ever to remember its heroes. Kit features four sets of decals for RAF aircraft.

1/48 H-21C SHAWNEE "FLYING BANANA"

Sixties workhorse

As the sun beats down, the skin of the "Flying Banana" heats up. Inside, soldiers in full gear drip sweat and try to ignore the constant "whump-whump" of the twin rotors. The engine noise changes. The .30 in the door opens up spraying rounds wildly. Points of light fill up the fuselage as bullets blast holes in the thin skin. The helicopter slews drunkenly in the air, rudderless. The nine-cylinder engine roars under the strain. Everything stops. As the dust settles around the crippled helicopter, a single warrior crawls from the wreck across the red soil of Vietnam. Kit features super decals sheet.

1/24 VW BEETLE COUPE AND CABRIO

The people's car!

Designed in the lead up to WWII, the "Volkswagen" Beetle was intended to revolutionize the German way of life. The vehicle was supposed to be cheap enough to purchase and easy enough to maintain that everyone could have one. World War II understandably curtailed production and development of the vehicle, but it emerged in the fifties and sixties as one of the most popular domestic and export models of German vehicle. Available as a coupe (ITAS3708) or cabrio (ITAS3709). Kit features chromed parts, multiple decal options, and rubber tires.

1/9 BMW R75 GERMAN MILITARY MOTORCYCLE WITH SIDECAR

Built to Blitz

Thousands of these Motorcycle-sidecar combinations hit the roads under the banner of the Third Reich. They were virtually unique in including a powered wheel on the side car, giving them increased maneuverability and power. Since they were such reliable all-terrain vehicles they were supreme recon tools and their sidecar-mounted machine guns gave them a harsh offensive armament for quickly dealing with infantry screens. Kit features four decal versions, rubber tires, and detailed parts.

1/72 SD.KFZ 142/1 STURMGESCHÜTZ III (2 KITS)

Armored artillery

Unlike most of Nazi Germany's armored vehicles, the Sturmgeschütz III was comparatively cheap and easy to build. This made it popular with the government. Additionally, it was reliable and easy to maintain which made it popular with crews. It was, however, massively unpopular with the Allies. With its low height, it was comparatively easy to camouflage it in a spot where enemy tanks were sure to stray within reach of its 75mm gun. Kit features two models with three sets of decals.

Academy® 1/35 M4A3 (76) W Battle of the Bulge

Fighting to the front

Armed with a newer, 76mm gun, the M4A3 (76)W was intended to confront the heavier armored vehicles that were emerging from the factories of the Third Reich. Before they could fight the enemy, however, these tanks had to get to them. Their tracks were equipped with "duckbills"—specialized extensions that gave them additional traction over snowy terrain. These vehicles reached the line not a moment too soon. German forces had started a surprise winter offensive—the Battle of the Bulge. Kit features 76mm gun, T48 tracks with duckbills, six decal options, rotating and fixed turret options, open/closed hatches, and accessories.

The Komatsu LAV is one of the finest vehicles the JGSDF has to offer. It's armored to withstand 5.56 and 7.62 mm munitions, powered by a 160 hp engine, and capable of mounting a selection of crew-served automatic weapons or anti-tank weapons. These vehicles deployed with the JGSDF to Iraq in 2005 for humanitarian operations. Kit features smoke launchers, open/closed split hatch, machine gun, driver figure, and three marking options.

Trumpeter® 1/72 Chinese J-20 Mighty Dragon 2011 Fighter

Stealthy superiority

Under development by the Chinese military, the J-20 fifth-generation fighter is expected to be operational with the PLAAF by 2018. It's a radical canard delta design made for long range, virtual invisibility to radar, and high maneuverability. Its first operational flight test was on the same day as a visit by Defense Secretary Gates—purely by coincidence, of course. Some sources indicate that, with its PL-10 and PL-12 missiles, the J-20 could be a formidable check on US power projection. Kit features photo etched and clear parts.

Trumpeter® 1/35 Soviet KV-7 Object 227 Tank

Only one

Only one of these experimental, self-propelled guns was ever built. It was based on the KV-1 chassis and armed with three cannons—two 45mm cannons and one 76mm cannon. It was even more massively heavily armored than the rest of the KV series of tanks with 100mm of front armor. Like the rest of the series, the KV-7 would have been hard to knock out but extremely expensive to build had it been accepted for service. Kit features plastic tracks, decals, and highly detailed pieces.
