From the Experts:

Axial is constantly moving forward in an effort to maximize performance and detail for scale enthusiasts. The SCX10™ II 2017 Jeep® Wrangler Unlimited CRC edition is a perfect example of that union, matching unparalleled trail-ability with stunning good looks. Some of the specialized parts we've included are CRC front and rear bumpers, unique rock rails with additional body-mounting points, molded front and rear fenders and a CRC-inspired hood. Additional external scale features consist of molded side mirrors, door handles, windshield wipers, hood latches and a full set of lights (six in total) that mount into a realistic front radiator/light bucket combo.

Long story short...

The SCX10™ II is the culmination of many years of development, furthering aesthetic realism while maximizing trail performance. The next generation of SCX10™ is here!

BUILT FAST, BUILT TO LAST!

Your path to power begins with 1/10, 2WD GRANITE and FAZON VOLTAGE MEGA SRS RTRs. They arrive ready-to-run out of the box with all the toughness and speed you can handle. Rookie, Intermediate and Pro settings let you practice your skills at your own pace. Two Lithium-Ion batteries are included, but you can maximize your run time by adding up to four more batteries. With the GRANITE and FAZON VOLTAGE, ARRMA makes it easy for you to double – or even triple – your off-road fun.

- Ergonomic ATX101 2.4GHz radio system with waterproof ADS-5 SRS 70 oz.-in. torque servo
- 3-in-1 power system with MEGA 20T 540 motor, MEGA SRS ESC and receiver
- Two Li-Ion batteries included – boost run times by adding up to four more Li-Ion batteries, or add a 6-cell NiMH battery or a 2S LiPo pack
- Li-Ion wall charger
- dBoots tires
- Tough multi-spoke wheels
- Oil-filled shocks

MAXIMIZE!
YOUR RUN-TIME!

AN INDUSTRY FIRST!

Each VOLTAGE includes two 18650 Lithium-Ion batteries. Increase your run-time by adding two or four more Lithium-Ion batteries—or drop in a 6-cell NiMH or 2S LiPo pack!

- 5-9 minutes run-time with 2 Li-Ion batteries,
- 10-18 minutes with 2 additional Li-Ion batteries,
- 15-27 minutes with 4 additional Li-Ion batteries,
- 4-8 minutes with 6-cell NiMH battery,
- 8-22 minutes with 2S LiPo battery

Note: run times are dependent on driving conditions, driving style and battery age.

The unique cradle design makes it easy to quickly change between different battery types.

1/25 BAJA BRONCO

Perfect for a desert drive

Off road, the Bronco rules. In the mid-sixties, the Bronco started rolling off the lines and Bill Stroppe Racing entered them into the Baja 500 and Mexican 1000 races. After big wins in both events, Ford started offering specially made Baja Broncos to select dealers in the early seventies. Kit features detailed V-8, separate frame, removable top, swing away spare tire, roll bar, back seat, lots of chrome plated parts, and soft black tires.

1/24 ZZ TOP ELIMINATOR

Go platinum!

In 1976, ZZ Top guitarist Billy F Gibbons commissioned Don Thelan's Buffalo Motors hot rod shop to build The Eliminator. Based on a '33 Ford Coupe, it was street-ready in 1983. The car was featured on the cover of the band's top selling album, "Eliminator", that went multi-platinum with over 10 million in sales. Kit features detailed V-8 with unique ZZ Top valve covers and air cleaner plus chromed dual exhausts, 3-piece engine cover, chrome plated parts, and soft black tires.

1/24 '78 GMC® PICKUP

Deep woods driver

Pickup trucks are everything from stolid, stable work vehicles to glamorous, low-riding speed demons with hydraulics. Their list of applications is as long as their list of proud owners. Our model, the GMC® Big Game Country represents a backwoods explorer that's modified for going where suburban grocery getters only dream of. Kit features detailed V-8 engine, 4 wheel drive suspension, separate frame, fold down tailgate, CB radio, gun rack, and soft black tires.

1/24 '53 CHEVY® BEL AIR® 3N1

Standout Chevy

The Chevrolet® Bel Air® was first introduced in 1950 and featured a unique roofline. Changes made for the 1953 model were so extensive it was advertised as "entirely new through and through". It introduced options like power steering and brakes—options previously only available on expensive luxury cars. Visually, its unique side trim distinguished the type from the earlier models. Kit features stock and lowered suspension options, detailed 6-cylinder engine with custom parts, parts to build as stock, lowrider, or custom versions, Tampos printed whitewalls, and soft black tires.

1/32 HEINKEL HE 219 A-O NIGHT FIGHTER

Fearsome flyer

The Allies were quite fortunate that disagreements and delays within the Nazi state prevented the He 219 from being produced until late in the war. These birds were devastatingly destructive and fully capable of hunting down bombers in the dark. Their payload of 20 and 30mm cannons could take apart even the sturdiest-built bombers and their twin-engine layout gave them the resilience to take return fire and still get back to base. Kit features fine details and recessed panel joints plus a detailed cockpit, separate control surfaces, motor front ring with radiator, moving propellers, and FuG 218 and 220 radar antennas. Includes three sets of decals.

1/700 JMSDF DDH KAGA FULL HULL VERSION

Strength for defense

An aircraft carrier in virtually all but name, the DDH Kaga "Helicopter Destroyer" can carry up to 28 aircraft and was commissioned early in 2017. It is part of a class of vessels that are the largest built by Japan since the end of WWII. This vessel, and the other vessels in its class, are specialized for anti-submarine warfare, search and rescue and, potentially, amphibious assault. They are also capable of launching short takeoff and landing aircraft. This limited edition kit features a full hull, full propulsion gear, and display stand.

1/72 A-1H SKYRAIDER "USS TICONDEROGA" 2-KIT COMBO

Heavy firepower

Sheer reliability and massive ordnance capacity kept the piston-powered Skyraiders flying well into the "Jet Age." Millions of pounds of ordnance were dropped by the Skyraiders against ground targets in Korea and Vietnam. The late A-1H version could carry up to 3,500 pounds (1,600 kg) of ordnance and was equipped with a combination bomb ejector/bomb director. This limited edition kit combo features two models and two marking options: 1. US Navy USS Ticonderoga VA-52 CAG, Code: NM300, (34569), 1967; 2. 1/24 SUBARU 360 1964 2ND JAPAN GP T-I CLASS WINNER

Cruise to the finish line

Introduced in 1958, the Subaru 360 was designed to give Japan's drivers an economical compact car for everyday driving. Compared to the VW Beetle, the 360 was smaller and distinguished by its monocoque body, fiberglass roof panel and rear-hinged "suicide doors." Although the 360 was a moderate success in its native Japan, it did not fare as well internationally. Despite this, the Subaru 360 remains a hit with mini car collectors. This limited edition kit features one marking option: 1. 1964 2nd Japan GP T-I Class Winner, Car No. 9.

Taking it offroad since the seventies

The Suzuki Jimny is, quite clearly, a descendant—through the Asian market—of the WWII Willis Jeep. A version of the Jimny currently holds the world altitude record for an offroad vehicle and thousands of offroading enthusiasts, around the world, trust them to take them to new heights. The JA71, with its three-cylinder engine, produces over forty horsepower which is more than enough to get it up and down the mountain! This limited edition kit features new front grille and bumpers plus full decals.

Faster is better

Marketed as the "Sebring" in North America, the GT380 was a light and fast 2-Stroke cycle that smoked the streets from the early seventies until 1980. As part of the GT-series, it was available in a substantial number of displacements and variants. The GT380 was in the mid-range of displacement versions available, at 380cc. This gave it a good balance of power and economy. Kit features decals for a 1972 version.

1/24 MAZDA COSMO SPORT L10B WITH GIRL FIGURE

Rotary powered and ready to rumble

Designed to be a sleek, space-age, and sexy, the Mazda Cosmo Sport L10B was powered by a 128 horsepower engine, could power to over 120 mph, and covered a quarter mile in under twenty seconds. Despite the cool features, only slightly over 800 of the type were made and, adding to its current mystique, less than a dozen were sold in the US. That makes this a truly one of a kind car! This limited edition kit features detailed parts for the car and a figure of a very interested girl for a cool diorama touch.

1/32 FOCKE-WULF FW 190D-9 BARKHORN WITH FIGURE

301 victories

Gerhard Barkhorn was a master of the sky. In WWII, he managed to shoot down over three hundred enemy aircraft—almost all of them on the Eastern Front. The Soviets put a price on his head, but, though they came close, they could never collect. He went through a succession of aircraft, including the powerful Fw 190, being shot down nine times, injured three times, and even having to bail out. Nevertheless, he made it through the war and served with West German air units afterwards. This limited edition kit features a Barkhorn figure and decals for his aircraft in February, 1945.

1/72 EA-18G GROWLER USS NIMITZ CVW-11 CAG

Quite the bite

Unlike many fighters, the Growler's primary role is to keep other craft alive by jamming the systems of enemy fighters and missiles. That's not to say that the Growler doesn't have a bite, though. Under-wing hard points can carry missiles for dogfighting. Introduced in 2009, the EA-18G received its first combat test in the skies over Libya during Operation Odyssey Dawn, supporting the UN no-fly zone. This limited edition kit features decals for VAQ-142 "Grey Wolves" aboard USS Nimitz.

1/700 JAPANESE NAVY DESTROYER MINEGUMO

One of ten

Minegumo was one of ten Asashio-Class destroyers, exceptionally large destroyers deployed by the Japanese Navy that wielded the incredible "Long Lance" torpedo. The ships were exceptionally well built, armed with six 12.7cm guns and a host of AA armaments, and they all had the rotten luck to be deployed in WWII. Every single Asashio-Class destroyer was sunk during the war. Minegumo went down in Blackett Strait in 1943 after a short and intensely lopsided battle against an entire US Task Force. Kit features decals for IJN 9th Squadron, 1943.

1/72 IAF-Kfir C2/F-21 LION

Adversaries in action

Based on the Dassault Mirage 5 and upgraded with superior license-built General Electric turbojets and Israeli-built avionics, the Kfir served with the Israeli Air Force as a multirole combat aircraft and with the United States Navy and Marine Corps as "adversary" aircraft for dissimilar Air Combat Training. It was hoped that the Kfir—which was substantially similar to the MiG-23 Flogger—would give American pilots and advantage in their training to fight those planes. Kit features decals for three versions, full decals, and instructions.

Developed by a consortium of European nations, the Eurofighter was designed to be a multi-role aircraft that specialized in interceptions. It's one of the best air superiority fighters in the world, with exceptional aerodynamic properties, distinctive canard-delta wings, and a top speed of Mach 2. Sophisticated technology, enhanced fly-by-wire control, and the superior maneuverability afforded by the canards makes it an exceptionally agile aircraft. 1/72 AMERICAN CIVIL WAR: FARMHOUSE BATTLE SET For Freedom

The Civil War combined new weapons with ancient tactics and the new ideas of freedom with old ideas of persuasion through murder. The world exploded. Screaming lead drowned out the belligerent politicians. Casualty lists grew next to draft lists. Dreams of a quick end drifted away. Roving bands devastated the countryside. Both sides preached that the fight was for freedom. In the end, after a million casualties, only the dead were truly free. Kit features MDF farm and barn, 50 Union and Confederate infantry, 17 Confederate Cavalry, and artillery plus defenses installations.

1/24 MERCEDES BENZ SK EURO CAB 6X4 Euro giant

With more than 500hp, the Mercedes-Benz "Eurocab" was the most powerful truck in the line when it was introduced in 1993. The distinctive raised roof cabin and spacious cab were standard, but there were a total of three engine options: 380, 435, and 500hp. Almost all parts were built by Mercedes in house and the V-8, turbo-charged diesel engine could haul an incredible weight of product. Decades on, these trucks can still be found on the roads of Europe. Kit features full decals, rubber tires, and instructions.

1/35 SD.KFZ. 4/1 15CM PANZERWERFER 42 Spreading terror far and wide

Rocket launchers were new to WWII, but Germany rapidly learned of their dreadful effects when they ran into the Katyusha on the Eastern Front. The Panzerwerfer's 15cm rockets were wildly inaccurate in comparison to conventional artillery, but the vehicle could lay down a barrage of ten enormous rockets from cover, move, hide, reload, and fire again. This made it very difficult to confront. On the receiving end, the rockets spewed shrapnel and the psychological effect of their shriek and bang is hard to convey. Kit features three sets of decals and full instructions.

Produced by Fiat from 1957 to 1975, the "Nuova 500" became an icon on four wheels. A symbol of "made in Italy". It was introduced at a very affordable price and intended to increase accessibility to an ever-wider market. It was easy to own, easy to drive, had low operating costs, making it perfect for a market that was slowly gaining affluence. The Fiat 500F is the most recognizable version, thanks to its front-hinged doors, new frame, and wider windscreen. Kit features photo etched parts, full decals, nylon and leather parts, rubber tires, and more.

1/56 CHAR B1 TANK - 3 DRIVERS INCLUDED The right tanks in the wrong places

German shells bounced straight off the Char. One on one it could destroy most any German tank thanks to its invulnerability and combination of 47 and 75mm gun. Sadly, when the French deployed their tanks, they spread them out between infantry divisions. German tanks grouped together and punched right through defenses far faster than French tanks could close the gaps. France fell. The Char was taken by its former enemies and turned into a flamethrower tank. Kit features three driver figures, six sets of decals, and full instructions.

Tamiya America 1/35 French Armored Car AMD35 1940 (ICM)

Panzer bait

This assembly kit recreates the AMD35, a 4-wheeled armored car deployed first as a reconnaissance vehicle by French cavalry units, and then by conquering German troops after the Fall of France in 1940. It was a mobile vehicle, able to transport its 4-member crew at speeds of up to 72km/h thanks to the 105hp engine. Around 360 were produced by 1940. Kit features armor rivets, separate 4-cylinder engine, gun breech, interior parts, tons of accessories, open/closed hatch options, leaf spring suspension, commander torso figure, and decals for two French and one German vehicle.

Tamiya America 1/35 British Self-Propelled Anti-Tank Gun Archer

Backwards British battler

Literally a 17-pounder anti-tank gun mounted backwards on a Valentine tank chassis, the "Archer" provided much-needed mobility to one of the few guns in the Allied inventory capable of knocking out Axis heavy armor from a distance. Because of the cramped, open-topped fighting compartment, and the inherent difficulty of driving it anywhere, the Archer was primarily a defensive vehicle. However, it still managed to get its knocks in before the end of the War and British troops used it into the early 1950s. Kit features open top compartment with gun details, shell rack, and more plus commander, loader, and gunner figures, and two marking options.

Tamiya America 1/35 German Soldiers At Rest

Rest and relaxation

Believe it or not, Blitzkrieg is really, really hard work. Pushing thousands of men beyond their physical limits day after day. Telling men on foot to keep up with men in tanks takes a toll. Even the most hard-driving, goose-stepping Nazi commander had to let his men stop to rest if he wanted to have a fighting force left to do the fighting. This set shows Wehrmacht troopers as you don't see them in the movies—fully attired in their M36 field uniforms, and equipped with helmets, bayonets, and cartridge cases, but at rest. Eating, drinking, cutting bread, and sitting down to rest. Kit features four full body figures.
